Greetings:

Congratulations to the local chapter of the Human Rights Campaign on the occasion of the 10th Annual Atlanta Dinner, "Illuminate, Educate, Celebrate."

We salute you for your leadership and your focus on the major concerns of the Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, and Transgendered Community, not only on the national and federal level, but on our local level as well. We wholeheartedly endorse the concepts of the pending "Employment Non-Discrimination Act" (EDNA) and look forward to the time when all discrimination ends.

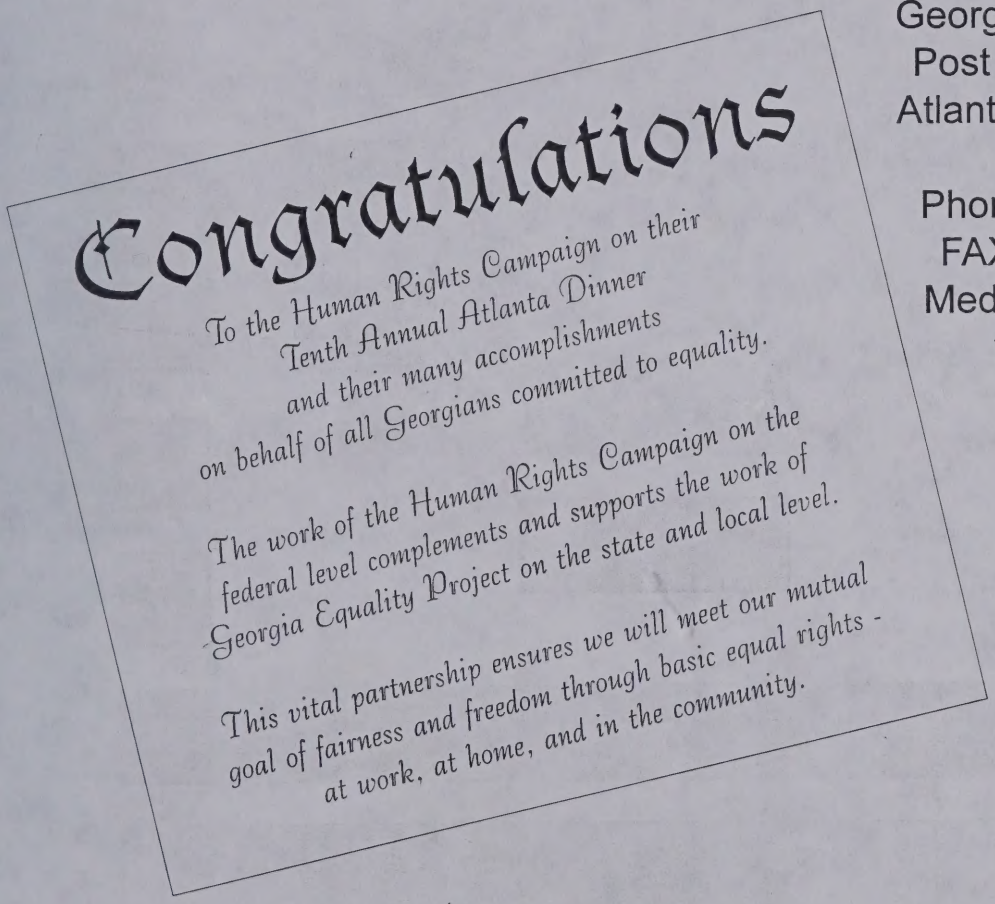
As we follow this year's theme, "Illuminate, Educate, Celebrate." let me offer HRC my congratulations on your choice of two of this evening's award recipients, Aida Rentas and Edie Cofrin. Both Aida and Edie serve on my Senior Advisors Board and are fine examples of the talent and capabilities of Atlanta's diverse communities. I know from my work with both of them that they do illuminate, educate, and celebrate.

We salute you, your work and your many contributions to the City of Atlanta.

Sincerely,

Bill Campbell

"We envision a society where all may acknowledge their sexual orientation or identity without fear of discrimination or reprisals."



Congratulations
To the Human Rights Campaign on their Tenth Annual Atlanta Dinner and their many accomplishments
on behalf of all Georgians committed to equality.
The work of the Human Rights Campaign on the federal level complements and supports the work of Georgia Equality Project on the state and local level.
This vital partnership ensures we will meet our mutual goal of fairness and freedom through basic equal rights - at work, at home, and in the community.

We applaud Aida Rentas on her receipt of the Human Rights Campaign Community Leadership Award.

We are strengthened by her contributions to our communities, challenged and humbled by her example of service to many, and honored by her participation on our Board of Directors.
